Meet Perpetual's Credit and Fixed Income team

By Perpetual Asset Management

17 June 2026

Australia's credit market offers compelling advantages, with many industries characterised by a few dominant players with concentrated market share. This concentration has supported strong earnings, robust balance sheets and resilience across economic cycles.

Continued market expansion — driven by increased bond issuance from both domestic and global issuers, growing offshore investor participation and the evolution of private credit — has seen opportunities broaden for investors.

Perpetual's Credit & Fixed Income team brings a collaborative, experience-driven perspective to portfolio construction and decision-making, with over two decades of experience navigating global markets.

Their investment process is grounded in fundamental credit research, robust risk management and a relentless focus on downside protection.

Investors benefit from the teams' active management style, deep sector specialisation and disciplined, risk-first approach, honed through major market events like the GFC and pandemic.

Meet Vivek Prabhu (head of credit and fixed income), Greg Stock (head of credit research) and Thomas Choi (senior portfolio manager) from Perpetual's Credit and Fixed Income team in this video.
